NARRATIVE:

Adams, a documented member of the Clover Street gang, has an extensive adult criminal history that began at the age of 20. His convictions include battery against a police officer, assault with a deadly weapon, possession of controlled substance while possessing a firearm, under the influence of a controlled substance, and violation of parole. Adams has served multiple state prison terms the longest a 2 (two) year term for battery on a police officer. Adams was released from state prison to the supervision of the Los Angeles County Probation Department on February 18th, 2013. Under the Governor's Public Safety Realignment Act of 2011, better known as Assembly Bill 109 (AB 109) the responsibility of lower-level offenders was shifted from the State to Los Angeles County. He subsequently failed to report to his probation officer and an arrest warrant was issued in November 2013 after he absconded from post release community supervision (PRCS). Adams qualified to be released to the supervision of probation, under AB 109, because his current commitment offense for battery on a police officer is defined as non-serious and non-violent under the California penal code. His prior criminal history, gang association, and current failure to comply with the terms of release make him a most wanted. If you know his whereabouts please contact...
